MISS PHILLIPS HOSTESS—CLUB LADIES RETURN—MRS. PURNELL TO ENTERTAIN

Exquisitely spring like in its appointments, with masses of golden hued acacia decorating the different rooms was the pretty party with which Miss Catherine Phillips entertained a coterie of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Phillips, No. 710 West Fifth street, Friday evening. This charming social event marked the sixteenth anniversary of this gracious young hostess, and she shared the joys of this notable event in her young life, with her equally happy young friends. Miss Catherine was assisted in the entertainment of her guests by her mother, Mrs. I. J. Phillips, her sisters, Mrs. James P. Ritchie and Miss Elizabeth Phillips. Guessing contests, music, dancing and various games whiled away the evening all too quickly for all, who at midnight bade Miss Catherine "good night" and wished her many happy returns of the day. The guests who assisted this young hostess in rendering the event one of the sweetest memories were Misses Wu-nita Emery, Marjorie Imler, Margaret Boucher, Esther Schemp, Evangeline Hunchberger, Ernestine Lyon, Katherine Renshaw, Florence Heacock, Mildred Wight, Lillian Schick, Mary Wilkins, Mona Butler and Dorothy Hunt. Messrs. William Bode, Frank Hester, Eugene Imler, Chancellor Livingston, Harry Spink, Miller Fisher, Lamen Crandall, Olin Wilson, Robert Cowlin, Howard McGillis, Thomas Phillips and William Renshaw, and Alfred and Wiley Cooper of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club, and Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, chairman of the hospitality committee of the club, have returned from Long Beach where they attended the 14th annual convention of the Los Angeles district federation of women's clubs.

Mrs. James P. Ritchie left by boat Sunday for San Francisco, where she will spend a fortnight visiting friends and the exposition.

Mrs. C. M. Harris of Los Angeles was the week end guest of her mother, Mrs. C. Augustus of Tropico avenue.

The Kensington club will be entertained by Mrs. Louise Purnell at her home on West Tenth street, on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Purnell will be assisted by Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock, Mrs. Robert Danner and Mrs. Charles Bruck.

After a delightful visit of several weeks as the guest of her son and family at Santa Ana, Mrs. Addie Allen has returned to her home.

Miss Elizabeth Phillips as the guest of Los Angeles friends motored to Riverside Sunday, where luncheon was enjoyed at the Mission Inn.

FIRST ENGLISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

On Sunday, March 7, the congregation had the great joy in the presence of Rev. J. A. Miller, pastor of Saint Paul's Lutheran church of Los Angeles. The excellent sermon at 11 a. m. by this devoted man of God was a great blessing to those who were present. The earnest, faithful preaching of the word of God by Rev. Miller, as supply pastor here, has given great encouragement to the work of the congregation at this particular period in their work, and he can have the joy of heart to know that under God his services here will be fruitful to the glory of God.

Rev. R. Warren Mottern, pastor of Trinity English Evangelical Lutheran church of Riverside, visited in Glendale on Friday and Saturday, returning to Riverside on Saturday afternoon. During his visit he was the guest of Wm. A. Anderson and family, 407 Isabel street, and Rev. M. F. Rinker, 403 1/2 South Brand boulevard. Rev. Mottern has accepted a unanimous call to the pastorate of the First English Evangelical Lutheran church of Glendale.

NEW RESIDENTS

Longden, recently of Alhambra, general manager of the Pomona Abstract and Trust company, is now a resident of Glendale and is domiciled with his family in their beautiful new home at 1044 North Brand boulevard. Dr. Longden comes with the recommendation of being a hustler and a wide-awake business man.

Mrs. John Banford of Los Angeles was the Sunday evening dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Althouse, 347 North Isabel street.

HONOR MEMORY OF CAPT. THOM—FITTING TRIBUTE PAID TO PIONEER

The board of directors of the Farmers' and Merchants' National bank of Los Angeles at a recent meeting paid the following beautiful tribute to the memory of Capt. Thom, who was for so many years identified with the business life of Los Angeles and who was the first pioneer to cultivate the soil in the fertile Glendale valley:

"When a brave, honorable citizen passes from this life to the next it is fit and proper that we who knew and loved him here pause from our labors and pay tribute to his memory."

"Especially is this so when the decedent was a member of our official family."

"Well might Cameron Erskine Thom be called 'the patriarch of our tribe.' He united in the execution of the articles of incorporation of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Los Angeles in 1871. Since that time he had been a member of its board of directors."

"He was also one of the incorporators of the Farmers' and Merchants' National bank of Los Angeles in 1903 and served on its board from that time until his death."

"During all of these years he was a vigilant director. His last attendance at a board meeting was on the 24th day of November, 1914. Since that time his physical condition prevented his joining us. He had the bank in mind, however, talked to his family about it, regretted that his strength would not allow him to attend our meetings and always expressed his loyalty to and love for our institution."

"Full of years, full of honors, happy in the knowledge of his life's duties well performed, he knew that the end was approaching. He never murmured, never complained, never railed against fate. He feared not for himself, but expressed deep regret at leaving his wife and children to the trials and tribulations of this world, all of which he feared would be augmented for them when his guiding hand and fostering love were withdrawn from them."

"He accepted the knowledge of his approaching dissolution, of the fact that he was about to pass to that great beyond, whose mysteries the dead alone can solve, with courage and equanimity. He realized that he had fought the good fight, fairly, courageously, honestly, earnestly and with justice to all. He realized that his physical strength was exhausted, that it could no longer keep step with his acute mental energy, and that he should soon lay down life's burdens and sink into that lasting slumber that knows no awakening."

"His was an eventful career. The great state of Virginia, the mother of statesmen, jurists, orators and soldiers, was the state of his nativity."

"He came to Los Angeles when Mr. Isaiahs W. Hellman and Mr. J. J. Vosburgh were yet boys, and all the other members of this board were yet unborn. He soon won for himself a strong position at the Los Angeles bar."

"When the Rebellion broke out he cast his fortunes with his native state. Gallantly he drew and valiantly he wielded his sword in her behalf."

"On the restoration of peace he returned to Los Angeles, acknowledged defeat, harbored no resentment, nursed no fancied wrongs, but went to work to assist in the rebuilding of the nation so long torn by cruel and fratricidal warfare. He put behind him all bitter recollections of the conflict and lived, not in the past, but in the future, and Los Angeles possessed no more energetic, loyal, patriotic American citizen than he was. He rejoiced that the North and the South were reunited and knew but one flag."

"He resumed his place at the Los Angeles bar and soon enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. He was honored by his fellow citizens with many positions of trust and responsibility. (Continued on Page 2)

RANDOM OBSERVATIONS

CONTRIBUTOR THINKS THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG AND WANTS TO KNOW WHY

(Communicated)

In traveling over Glendale it is no uncommon thing to see from one to a dozen delivery busses and wagons from Los Angeles delivering their wares to the residents of Glendale, and it is a common thing to see printed on the sides of these wagons, "Glendale Delivery."

Now there must be something very radically wrong somewhere; either the people have got the habit of trading in Los Angeles and other nearby towns or it may be that the merchants of Glendale are selling their goods at an almost prohibitive price, and if this be the case, it is high time, Mr. Merchant, that you apprise yourself of the fact that the laboring man and the wage earners generally, with the assistance of the thrifty housewife, is from force of circumstances compelled to buy economically and make the almighty dollar go as far as possible.

And unless the local merchant sells his goods at a competitive price, the shrewd buyer will continue to use his or her telephone and the price lists published and advertised so extensively in the Los Angeles papers. Why not, then, advertise your goods and sell them as cheap as they are sold by Los Angeles firms and delivered promptly at our doors.

To substantiate these facts, we might go into detail and quote the differences in prices of various articles of everyday use, but to convince yourself just pick up a Los Angeles paper and compare the prices with your own.

Just as long as these conditions exist, just so long will our town cease to prosper and grow the way it should.

This condition in a great measure accounts for the fifteen large, spacious storerooms in Glendale that have that "hoo-doo," for rent sign, hung in their windows.

We do not wish to "knock" the building industry in Glendale; let the good work go on, but we sincerely wish that it was Glendale labor only that was doing the building. Watch the cars of a morning and see the laborers that alight with their tools and dinnerpails. Visit the different buildings now under construction and count the noses; see how many of them are Glendale workmen; not ten per cent of the labor is home labor. Yet the firms, if there be any, who open up a business in these new storerooms, will expect and depend upon the laboring class to a great extent for their support. But the question is, will they get it?

ENTERTAIN PATIENTS

There was a well dressed wandering orchestra in Glendale this morning playing at different points on the business streets. They finally made their appearance at the Glendale Sanitarium and were more appreciated there where the people have more time to listen to them. In fact they were so well satisfied with the reception given them that they are remaining the rest of the afternoon to entertain the patients.

NEGRO STREET CLEANERS

It might require a stretch of the imagination to say that the negro street cleaners in the San Diego exposition grounds here are perfectly good Beau Brummells.

Such designation is being given them on account of their natty appearance and Chesterfield airs. Every member of this corps of white-wings is attired in a natty white duck suit and hat; shoes are polished like a bank president's; a white collar and tie add to their immaculate appearance, and even some have gone so far as to say that one or two members of the squad visit a manicure parlor daily.

Visitors to the exposition have mistaken these white-wings on account of their well-groomed appearance for South African envoys.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

GLENDALE WINS EIGHT POINTS AT THE SAN FERNANDO TRACK MEET

The Glendale high school track team traveled over to San Fernando last Saturday for the annual invitation track meet at that place. While there they annexed eight points, due chiefly to the efforts of Bidwell, who was assisted by Ben Nichols.

Santa Paula won the meet, with Anaheim and Harvard military academy taking second and third places respectively.

Following are the events gathered by the Glendale performers:

Bidwell—High jump, second; javelin throw, third; broad jump, second. Nichols—Discus throw, third.

High School Baseball Schedule

The baseball schedule for the central section of the Los Angeles county league, of which Glendale Union high school is a member, has been arranged. The league season starts April 10, but a number of practice games probably will be played before that date. The schedule as announced follows:

April 10—Monrovia at Glendale; umpire, Buss; April 17—Glendale at L. A. college; umpire, Buss; April 24—Glendale at Harvard; umpire, Searcy; May 1—Compton at Glendale; umpire, Kane; May 8—Glendale at South Pasadena; umpire, Searcy; May 15—Glendale at Covina; umpire, Keppen; May 22—Alhambra at Glendale; umpire, Keppen.

This schedule gives Glendale only three games on their home diamond and the local players will get four trolley trips during the season. It will be noted also that Glendale will not have to meet Pasadena or other large schools this year, so there is hope of winning a pennant.

DEBATING TEAMS CHOSEN

The debating teams which will represent Glendale Friday evening in the third debate in the Southwestern Debating league have been chosen and are as follows: Affirmative—Paul Brooks, Donald Cowlin; negative—George Dyer, Howard Stickney. The affirmative team will go to Santa Ana. The question will be on the Monroe Doctrine.

OAKLAND'S MUNICIPAL GARAGE

Oakland's municipal garage has established a record for economical running of automobiles. It has got service from the city cars at a rate of 6.4 cents a mile, while the cheapest rate secured by mercantile houses where a record has been kept is 8.2 cents a mile, showing a difference of nearly two cents a mile in favor of the city.

Oakland now owns and uses for its municipal work a fleet of thirty-nine machines. During the last year they have run 141,699 miles at an average cost of 6.4 cents a mile for both operation and maintenance. The average cost per machine is $40 a month. The average among mercantile firms is $65 a month.

Since the establishment of the garage in March, 1913, the number of municipal machines has grown from nineteen to thirty-nine, although the employees of the garage remain the same, an automobile mechanic and two hostlers. More men are needed, however, as the city plans further additions to its motor equipment.

Fully equipped buildings have been erected for the municipal garage and machinery capable of rebuilding an entire machine installed. A rule has been adopted which provides that any municipal machine after running ten thousand miles must be overhauled and rebuilt if necessary. This gives the city the maximum service out of the automobile.

By means of an "in-and-out" register, a complete check is kept on the use of all municipal machines, thus preventing any "joy riding" in a city machine.

How hard it is to forget that which shouldn't be told.

A FULL DAY

INTERESTING FEATURES CONNECTED WITH TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB MEETING

Tomorrow will be a big day for the Tuesday Afternoon club. There will be reports from the convention and addresses by prominent workers. The banner won by Mrs. P. S. McNutt in the parliamentary drill contest at the convention will be formally presented to the club and Mrs. McNutt and Mrs. W. E. Evans will be presented with pins for excellence in parliamentary drill. In the contest in the local club a few weeks ago Mrs. McNutt and Mrs. Evans tied for the privilege of representing the Tuesday Afternoon club at the convention contest. In drawing for the decision, Mrs. McNutt was the winner, so both of these ladies will be presented with gold pins in the form of keys engraved with the words, "Parliamentary Law."

The following program will be observed and all members and guests are urged to be in the club rooms promptly at 2:30, as the program is a very full one:

Piano solo, Miss Ruby Dale. Presentation of banner to club. Presentation of pins to Mrs. McNutt and Mrs. Evans. "The City Beautiful," Mrs. C. H. Ritchie, district chairman of civics. A Bouquet of Songs, Mrs. William Herman West. Address, "Prevention and Rescue Work," Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett of Washington, D. C., special government representative at the San Francisco exposition. Refreshments.

Mrs. Barrett has paid the club a very high compliment in remaining over one day on her way north especially to address the club. She should be heard by every woman in Glendale. Guests will be admitted on visiting cards of members if guest cards are all used. Each member may bring two guests.

Mrs. A. L. Weaver and Mrs. P. S. McNutt will give reports from the district convention.

WORK PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

The work of various additions to Glendale city school buildings is going along nicely. Mr. C. K. Robertshaw, who is building the additions to the sloyd room and the domestic science room of the Third street school, is about ready to put the roof on these two additions and expects to finish the work the latter part of next week. Kent & Son, who are to build the main addition to the Third street school, have already started putting in the foundation. Work on the foundation has also been begun for the new building of the Central avenue school. Kent & Son have the contract for this and hope to rush it along as rapidly as possible.

WELCOME VISITORS

People living in the neighborhood of the Preston home, 725 Adams street, saw a pretty and unusual sight the other day when a flock of several hundred robins were discovered holding a conference in the large pepper trees. It is hoped that the convention was called to consider remaining in this vicinity and that the decision to do so was unanimous.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The thirty-second annual meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Los Angeles Presbytery will be held in the First Presbyterian church of Los Angeles, Tenth and Figueroa, March 9, 10 and 11. The first session of the convention opens Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be a young people's meeting in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gant returned to their home in Monrovia Sunday after spending the week at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Riley Lyons on Louise street.

LAST WEEK A CLIMAX

WITH EVERY INCH OF SPACE FILLED TABERNACLE SERVICE STARTS FOURTH WEEK

(By Publicity Committee)

Program of week:
Monday, rest day.
Tuesday night, "Worldly Amusements."

Wednesday night, West Glendale Methodist night and banquet for the young women and girls.

Thursday, open for special feature. Friday afternoon, women's meeting, "The Ideal Woman."

Saturday, 2:30, children's chorus and service.

Sunday, 2:30, special service for men and boys, "Chickens Come Home to Roost."

Continuance of lecture on "Isms" Tuesday afternoon, "Christian Science Under the Lens." Great exposure.

Packed like sardines and stacked around the walls in corn-stalk fashion, every available inch of space utilized and then many forced to leave for lack of accommodation, the Brown and Curry revival swung into the fourth week with record-breaking services on Sunday. The closing of a tabernacle meeting with traffic police, tooting horns, the buzz of motors, thousands of pedestrians watching their chance to make the crossing at the corner of Third and Maryland streets, suggests Seventh and Broadway, Los Angeles, and is severely shocking to the natural tranquility of restful Glendale. Mayor Lane and his faithful corps of ushers had a titanic job Sunday night and they certainly measured up.

With hearty co-operation on the part of all the churches, pastors and officers, the closing of the now famous gospel campaign will be a fitting climax to the mighty wonders so far wrought by God under the consecrated and able leadership of Brown and Curry.

Most everybody is converted to the revival; would now that the revival might convert everybody.

A few of the prominent residents of the cities united in the revival seem not so far to have taken hold. Perhaps they are afraid of getting religion. Never has this part of the world experienced an interest, sustained for weeks and practically drawing in our entire population, that would be worthy of comparison with the present religious movement. Those who have willed to stay away from meeting show a small conception of the psychology of a mass movement and are surely victims of narrow prejudice. Whatever interests the people should interest the thinker among the people. Know the people and know God.

One young man remarked that he was getting behind in his studies on account of attending services at the tabernacle. It was revealed that psychology was the backward subject. Had he stopped to think he would have seen the greatest opportunity to study practical psychology ever afforded him in the conduct of one of Brown and Curry's meetings. Know folk by mixing.

Brother Curry made a great hit with his children's chorus. It was a marvel to those experienced in work with boys and girls that so much could be accomplished in one practice. There is a universal demand for another children's service next Saturday. The concert is easily worth fifty cents a ticket and just think, it is thrown in free. Curry is a genius of the first magnitude and the boys and girls love and obey him like an ideal "Brown father," the kind the preacher talked about Sunday afternoon with perhaps a little softening of the woodshed tones, and yet we are not certain about the modulation of the shingle.

The talk to "the little rats" was perfect. The youngsters preached half the sermon in a running catechism. Each question was answered with Gatling gun rapidity and when finally they were asked to stand on the benches, face the grown-ups in the audience and point out those who attend theaters on Sunday and do other things Christians should not do, they put it all over Brown for pointed preaching. The victims enjoyed the exposure, at least they acted like they did. Praise God for the honesty of the children and dear Brother Brown. The evangelist's signpost pointing to hell and heaven does not need to be repaired.

There was great interest in the message of Saturday evening, and a packed house again greeted the gifted evangelist.

Rev. Edmonds led in prayer and Brother Wallace, a Long Beach banker, gave a strong talk on the results of the Brown and Curry campaign in his city. It was great. In the first place, this brother is a gifted public speaker and in the second place he had something to say. Prayer meeting (Continued on Page 4) all of which he most faithfully discharged.

"It does not do him justice to say that he was a just, upright, honorable man. He was more than that. All of his instincts were good. There was nothing mean or sordid or little in his nature. On the contrary, he was a magnanimous, generous, gentle, loving and most amiable gentleman.

"He was generous in his judgment of his fellowmen. He searched for an excuse to pardon, rather than a reason to punish, any person who had wronged him. Fair in his dealings with others, he loved justice for her own sake. He was patient at all times, even under the most trying circumstances.

"But, while of a gentle nature, when he had a duty to perform, he was as hard as adamant. While district attorney he was an able and most merciless prosecutor of those whom he felt were guilty of crime. In the prosecution of criminals he never yielded to any of that mawkish sentimentality that modern, sensational reformers have introduced in the form of probation, a new experiment which so far has worked, and always will work, detrimentally to society.

"Captain Thom's mental faculties were singularly acute for a man of his advanced years. He was an omnivorous reader, and fully posted on past events and present conditions throughout the world.

"The death of this most estimable citizen is deplorable. He is gone from us, never to return. Never again shall we receive his kindly, courteous greeting. Never again will he sit with us at this council board. Some one else must take his place here, but the new member will not take our departed brother's place in our hearts.

"Nearly four score and ten years were allotted to him, all of which were well spent by him.

"We will miss him, his neighbors will miss him, but most of all his family will miss him. Let us cherish his memory, imitate his virtues, cultivate his philosophical attitude of mind.

"In view of the passing of our beloved brother; in view of his achievements, his splendid qualities as a man, his love and devotion to his family, his distinguished services to both the city and county of Los Angeles, be it

"Resolved, That we sincerely deplore the death of Captain Cameron Erskine Thom; that therein this community has suffered a loss of a man of energy, honesty and ability, a citizen whom she could well be proud of, and whom she could ill afford to lose; that we deplore the passing of one more of those rugged pioneers of Los Angeles, who devoted the best years of his life to the up-building and advancement of this country; that his wife and children have suffered an irreparable loss in the death of a loving husband and a devoted and indulgent father. Let their consolation be the memory of his love for them, his devotion as a husband, his justice as a father, his worth as a man, his integrity as a citizen, and the profound respect with which he was regarded by his fellow men; be it further Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon our minutes in full, and an engrossed copy thereof transmitted to his bereaved family, to whom we tender our most heartfelt sympathies."

On Saturday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bosserman and Mr. and Mrs. Ashton of 814 South Central avenue were among the Glendale people who attended the reunion of Laporte, Ind., people that was held at Bixby park, Long Beach. There were eighty-six Laporteans present and they surely had a fine reunion. Each took a well-filled basket and there were two long tables loaded with good things. They decided to form a permanent society and to hold a reunion each year, so a president and other officers were elected. An original poem by Mr. Chas. Michael of San Diego, formerly from Laporte, was read and an original song by Miss Lottie Closser, now of Long Beach, was sung to the tune of "Tipperary." Regrets were read from several who could not be present, while Mr. and Mrs. Will Cochran of Redlands distributed a box of delicious oranges among the crowd. Everyone enjoyed the day and all are looking forward to next year's picnic.

Dave Carney and family, in company with Mrs. H. Broker and daughter of Los Angeles, motored to Sawtelle, Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica Sunday.

BANK OF GLENDALE

California's laws regulating this bank are among the strongest in the United States.

In these laws are defined just what loans a bank may make.

Regular examinations are made by the State Banking Superintendent, and as a further protection to our depositors, and to ourselves, we secured connection with the Los Angeles Clearing House and are examined by the Clearing House Examiner.

The funds are protected by a good screw-door safe in a vault fortified with electric burglar alarm, in addition to being insured against burglary and hold-up.

All officers are bonded.

The Bank of Glendale makes no loans to any of its officers.

Disinterestedness in those having care of your money is thus assured.

Keep in mind that we do a Commercial and Savings bank business; that we are provided with all that is desired in safety and service.

WOULD SELL TO CONSUMER

Leading orange packers of this district are at work on preliminary publicity for the purpose of eventually establishing a plan whereby California products can be put directly into the hands of the consumers. The necessity for this sort of marketing, according to officials of the local packing concerns, was never more apparent than this year, when in scores of Eastern cities it was found that the retailers were making from 100 to 300 per cent profit from handling of citrus fruits.

The plan as it has been mapped out in general terms is for the establishment in all of the larger cities throughout the country of retail stores in which will be handled California dried fruits, canned goods and fresh fruits of all kinds. It is believed the plan could eventually be extended to marketing of the varieties of California vegetables, which are shipped east for fancy trade.

In support of the theory of this plan, it is pointed out that at least one retail concern in the United States has established scores of stores in the larger cities and has made a complete success of the chain-store system.—Pacific Fruit World.

C. E. WRIGHT

Mr. C. E. Wright, formerly of Sawtelle, but who has made his home at the Glendale sanitarium for four years, passed away at 3 o'clock this morning. Mr. Wright leaves two sons, one residing at San Pedro and one in the northern part of the state, and more distant relatives in Los Angeles.

Arrangements for funeral services and burial are not yet complete. The Jewel City Undertaking company are in charge and Rev. Bede A. Johnson of the First Methodist church will officiate.

STATE BOARD OF FORESTRY

The state board of forestry is charged with the duty of supervising all matters of forest management and forest policy coming under the direction of the state.

In the performance of this duty there is a consensus of opinion expressed by the board through the state forester, Mr. G. M. Homans, concerning the vital provisions of an adequate forest protective policy for California.

Under existing conditions in the state a protective measure must provide unquestionably for the following:

1. The protection of both publicly and privately owned timber lands and range lands against fire. This necessitates:

First: Provisions for effective cooperation between state, federal, municipal, county and private agencies.

Second: An adequate number of fire patrols during the fire danger season acting under competent authority.

Third: A definitely specified method of controlling and preventing fires and of compensating fire fighters.

Fourth: Provision requiring that slash resulting from logging and wood cutting shall be disposed of.

Fifth: Provision requiring the railroads to keep their rights-of-way clear of inflammable debris through which fire might be carried to adjoining property.

Sixth: Provision requiring all steam engines operating in or near wooded or range land to be equipped with efficient spark arresters.

2. There must be a strong state forestry organization as a regular and important part of the state government, which shall be charged with the duty of looking after the interests of the people of the state in all matters relating to forestry.

There is a bill before the legislature which makes all these provisions. Its aim is to protect every industry and to further the principles of conservation in California. The stockman, rancher, fruit-grower, lumberman, water user and many others should be equally concerned in seeking the passage of this bill. The measure is senate bill No. 460, and its companion in the assembly is No. 605.

ing in his church has increased from 150 to over 600; laymen have organized into gospel teams and are going everywhere preaching the glorious gospel. Wallace expects like results to follow the big campaign in Glendale.

Now what about that talk on Eddyism, Mormonism and Russellism? Were you there? Did you get your money's worth? Say, how about the effect of such a powerful lecture? Amen!

The grouping of Mormonism, Russellism and Eddyism is clever, for all three are modern and all three claim to be the true revelation from heaven, while the three disagree on all fundamentals and are as far apart doctrinally as the poles. Which is right? Does it not appear that all must be abnormal and sent as stumbling blocks to gullible souls?

While these strange religious movements are wide apart in their teaching, there are many particulars in which they are similar.

They all draw from the established churches, making no attempt to reach the unchurched, the poor lost of the underworld, and are rightly classified parasitic.

They appeal to distinct classes. Mormonism to the unthinking; Eddyism to the reading public, not necessarily the thinking public; Russellism to a middle class who read after a fashion and take some interest in Bible study.

They all substitute for the Bible, while it is clearly stated in the word of God that to take from or add to Holy Writ is to come under the judgments of heaven. Mormonism has its book of Mormon and the covenants; Eddyism, Key to the Scriptures; Russellism, Divine Plan of the Ages.

Each of them claims to be the word of God to the age. Certainly one must be a lie.

They all offer a special bonus. Mormonism grants license to animal passion. Eddyism offers deliverance from sickness. Russellism offers a second chance in the millennium, a sort of millennial purgatory.

They are all identical in that they come from questionable sources. The history of Mormonism was reviewed in all of its rottenness. The character of Mrs. Eddy, who had three husbands, etc., was truthfully handled much as in the famous McClure series. Russell's strange court proceedings were reviewed, the information being of public record. "Can a bitter fountain give forth sweet water?"

They are all out, first and last, for the almighty dollar and they get it. Mormonism is a financial peril to the United States. Eddyism costs money. The key is copyrighted and treatment is so much a dose. Russellism takes no collection, but works to extract all a fellow has got and sells literature by the wagonload.

These "isms" draw because they are human plus satanic. Well meaning, seemingly intelligent people are drawn after false gods and for an extra wife or the cure of a stomach-ache or for the vain hope of a second chance beyond the grave, sell out the God of their fathers and surrender the deep essential convictions of the church of Christ universal. Oh, the pity, the tragedy of the last days when many are giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils and science falsely so-called. Come to!

Evangelist Brown has been requested to get right down to business and tell the whole story of worldly amusements. He is agreed and on Tuesday night will be the time. Come early for a good seat. Report of Sunday's services in tomorrow's issue of the Evening News.

WILD FLOWER DAY

While the Southland's sons of the soil are discussing problems of vital importance to farmers and ranchers (farm bureau day, March 20, at the San Diego exposition, a carload of wild flowers from Kern county will be distributed to women visitors. This date promises to be a banner one for the south end of the state.

One of the most important features will be the observance of orange day, for which Governor Johnson has just issued a proclamation. Another will be Kern county day. The others are farm bureau day, San Diego county day and second day of the flower show given by the San Diego Floral association.

These five features in one day are predicted to bring to the exposition a heavy attendance and the day will see the gathering of thousands from the seven Southern California counties. In addition to the attractions mentioned, the regular exposition program will contain an organ recital by Dr. H. J. Stewart on the mammoth outdoor organ, musical program by the exposition's Spanish band, drills and parades by the U. S. marine corps, celebrations on the Isthmus and in all state and county buildings.

With the cessation of the winter rains the roads leading into San Diego from Southern California points will be in good condition and a great number of motor parties are expected. The railroads are arranging to take care of a heavy travel.

The program for the San Diego county farm bureau meeting will team with attractive and educational subjects. Some of the best known agricultural experts in California have been given places on it. Discussions, which every farmer and rancher will profit by hearing, have been arranged.
